C. Keith Carlin Appoints "Y" Flying Squadron

Part of Executive Committee Which Will Act as Advisors to the General Chairman in Campaign

CAMPAIGN TO START IN MAY

C. C. Lamond, W. A. Smoot, C. C. Carlin and Judge J. K. M. Norton are Named as Members—State Secretary W. M. Lee Will be in Local Charge of Raising of Funds to Provide New Building and Equipment.

C. Keith Carlin, general chairman of the campaign committee to raise $75,000 for the Alexandria Y. M. C. A., announced his "flying squadron" yesterday afternoon. This important body of men is composed of C. C. Lamond, W. A. Smoot, C. C. Carlin and Judge J. K. M. Norton.

The announcement was made at a special meeting of those interested in the campaign held at the Chamber of Commerce, at which State Secretary M. W. Lee was a special guest. Mr. Lee will be campaign director of the local movement and he was in the city to check up progress.

The "flying squadron" is one of the most important organizations of the campaign, and will compose a part of the executive committee which is the chief adviser to the campaign director and general chairman of the entire committee. The squadron will have entrusted to it special duties of a strategic nature, and it has been agreed by all concerned that the choice of men has been a most fortunate one.

Mr. Carlin also announced a slight change in the date of the campaign, the new dates being May 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. This date was made at the request of the State office and the general chairman graciously agreed to devote one more week to the work. Mr. Lee announced himself thoroughly pleased with the progress made in the arrangements for the campaign, even remarking the work was ahead of schedule in some respects.

Mr. Carlin was introduced to the Kiwanis Club at its regular weekly dinner at the Westminster Building yesterday as the "chairman of the campaign committee to put a Young Men's Christian Association in Alexandria." He responded with a few enthusiastic words about the association and expressed the desire to put the city in the class with other cities in the State that were smaller but had Y. M. C. A.s of which they were justly proud.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, March 24.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission has announced that hearings will begin before the Commission in Washington on April 24 next upon the tentative plan to consolidate the railroads of the United States into a few competitive systems.

The initial hearings will deal exclusively with the plan to consolidate the lines to the southeastern region. The Commission has proposed that the railroad properties in that region may be consolidated under the provisions of the transportation act into three systems.

These systems are:—system No. 10.—Southern; system No. 11—Atlantic Coast Line—Louisville and Nashville; and system No. 12.—Illinois Central—Seaboard Air Line.

The Commission first will hear evidence upon the plan to consolidate the lines embodied within the proposed system No. 10. After that is closed the other two systems will be taken up in their order.

Revenue Commissioner Blair has put the lid down tight on the Internal Revenue Bureau to thwart the manoeuvers of tax grafters who seek by devious methods to gain access to government tax files.

The Commissioner has issued an order which places the ban of secrecy upon every one of the 20,000 employees and officials of the revenue establishment and sets up punishment for offenders so severe that it is calculated to put an effective check upon "leaks" of information about taxes and irregular practices through connivance with government employes.

The order affects collectors of internal revenue, deputy collectors, agents, clerks or other officers or employees of every official station. They are forbidden to disclose in any manner the business methods of manufacturers or producers or others engaged in business or to divulge anything relating to the amount or source of income, profits, losses or expenditure of tax payers.

Announcement was made by Prohibition Commissioner Hayes today that John A. Murphy has been selected as divisional chief with headquarters at Norfolk over the district comprising the state of North Carolina and Virginia with the exception of the counties of Frederick, Clarke, Loudoun, Fairfax, Prince William, Fauquier, Rappahannock, Page, Shenandoah, Warren and Rockingham. Over these counties W. D. Smith, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., will have immediate supervision.

The United States has been divided into eighteen divisions by the Prohibition Commissoner for the purpose of greater enforcement of the dry law. The divisional chiefs will be under the immediate supervision of Commissioner Haynes and will act as his personal representative in their respective divisions. They will have full control of officers asigned to their diivisions and will with the force under them make renewed effort for the enforcement of the Volstead law. They have been selected beause of their peculiar fitness, experience, executive ability and trustworthiness.

According to reports received at the Census Office nearly 13,000,000 male residents of the United States are unmarried. America, it is indicated, has the largest single collection of bachelors in the world.

Reports that a new record for the number of marriages was established during the last twelve months are not credited by government officials. Matrimony has and still is claiming less persons now than at any time in a decade, it is believed.

Young men and women seemingly are becoming reluctant to tread the path to the altar, it is indicated. Government officials are studying the situation to learn the cause for the apparent unpopularity of romantic love.

The cost of living was examined first. It is not believed that high prices will tend to discourage matrimony to the extent of hampering marriages to a large extent.

Approximately 1,000,000 marriages occur each year in the United States. This is not a large number in proportion to the adult population. In Japan, England and especially in Germany, the proportion is much higher, officials say.

VICTORY FOR TREATY TODAY IS PREDICTED

Senate Leaders Are Confident of Passing Four-Power Pact

OBLIGATES TO WAR

Senator Glass Attacks Agreement and Regrets "Ignorance" of Senator Underwood as to Meaning.

Washington, March 24.—Ratification today of the Four-Power treaty by a vote of 65 to 28 was the count of Administration leaders of the Senate.

Senator Lodge was absolutely confident of ratification by this safe margin, and Senator Underwood, the Democratic leader, was equally sanguine of the excess over a two-thirds vote.

It now appears that 93 senators will be present and voting when the treaty goes to final consideration tomorrow afternoon. The treaty forces were helped today by the appearance of Senator Harreld, Republican, of Oklahoma, who has long been ill. He will vote for ratification.

Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, Democrat, is also to be en route to Washington after a sojourn in Europe. His ship docked at New York today, and Senator Owen, who will support the pact, is expected here in time to vote.

It wa sarranged today that the other three votes in the Senate shall be cared for by pairs, and, consequently, the entire Senate membership will be represented by votes actually cast or paired. Senator Crow, Pennsylvania, who is ill, and Senator Fernald, of Maine, another treaty supporter, will be paired with Senator Jones, of New Mexico, who is opposed to the pact.

"The treaty will be ratified; it is all over but the shouting," was the terse comment today of Senator Lodge, who seemed in excellent spirits.

Today was a field day for debate in the upper chamber, and more than a dozen senators spoke for and against the pact. Probably the high point of the long and heated discuisson was the launching of an attack on the treaty by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia. Although the Virginia senator has denied that he had had any communication whatsoever with former President Wilson, in whose Cabinet he served, certain senators wondered today if the views of Senator Glass did not accurately reflect those of Woodrow Wilson.

During his speech, in which he termed the Four-Power treaty a dangerous alliance and nothing else, Senator Glass expressed regret that Senator Underwood did not know more about the treaty. Mr. Glass said he had been responsible for Mr. Underwood's selection as Democratic floor leader, and while he admired him, he could not support his actions at the Arms Conference. That the naval disarmament treaty does not really accomplish limitation of armament was charged by Senator Glass.

ALL URGED TO CONTRIBUTE TO WILSON FUND

Contributions Should Be Sent at Once to H. R. Burke, Chairman

ALLOTMENT IS $1,000

Committee Anxious That City Reach Quota—All contributions to be Acknowledged in Gazette.

The local committee in charge of raising the city's allotment for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the chamber of commerce and discussed ways and means for raising the remainder of the fund. The allotment for Alexandria is $1,000.

Owing to the fact of the general pressure of business the men connected with the movement have been unable to get out and make a personal canvass for funds for this proposition. They hope, however, they will not have to find it necessary to do this and all are urged to send in their contributions at once to H. R Burke, chairman of the committee. All contributions to this fund will be acknowledged from time to time through the columns of the Gazette. Everyone is urged to contribute what they can.

Practically all cities in the state have surpassed their allotment for this fund and members of the committee feel confident that Alexandria in this drive will come up to expectations as she has done in all other drives in the past.

It is the purpose of this committee to wind up its work as quickly as possible and they make an appeal for the business men of the city to send in their subscriptions at once to Mr. Burke, and as stated above every contribution made is to be acknowledged from time to time through the columns of the Gazette.

GIVEN THREE YEARS IN PEN

John Walker, Colored, Convicted of Larceny of Dollars Sixty

Twenty-Five Students in Business Course of High School Attend 6 Trial

Three years in the penitentiary for grand larceny was the verdict given by a jury in the Corporation Court at noon today in the case of John Walker, colored, indicted for grand larceny in connection with the theft of $60 from the residence of Mrs. T. Wellington Rose. M. L. Horner was foreman of the jury.

It was testified that the money was stolen from a pocketbook in a handbag which was lying on the hall rack of the residence of Mrs. Rose, 214 North Fairfax street, the morning of February 27, and it consisted of three $20 bills. Attorney R. W. Stump, representing Walker, made a motion to set aside the verdict, and it was taken under advisement by the court. The prosecution was conducted by Commonwealth's Attorney Howard W. Smith.

Attending the trial were 25 students in the business course of the high school, who made copious notes on the case, this being their first experience the hearing of a criminal case.

The State Legislature this year appropriated an additional $20,000 for the maintenance of the school, and the boar dof visitors adopted a resolution expressing the appreciation of the members for the assembly's action.

PRESIDENT MAY ASK FOR TRUCE TO HALT STRIKE

Harding is Considering Suggestion That He Should Take Action

DAUGHERTY PLANNING

Attorney General is Reported as Ready to Move Against Unions if Deemed Advisable.

Washington, March 24.—President Harding may issue a public appeal to the coal operators and miners to call a truce and prevent the strike on April 1.

That, it is learned, is one of the plans that have been suggested to the Administration by those working to stop the strike. While there is no certainty that the President will act upon it, he has given it consideration and it is thought he will watch the situation carefully in the next few days to determine whether it will be effective.

The strategy of the President and the Department of Labor, it appears, is to keep on the outlook for the "psychological moment" to make an appeal to reason and good will.

There are signs that Attorney General Daugherty has plans for action against the miners' organization that do not fit into what seems to be the Department of Labor's strategy, but the general tone of official comment is not in harmony with the attorney general.

At the Department of Labor officials are keeping in constant contact by telegraph with both sides of the controversy. What they seek to do is to bring about arbitration. They have little real hope that they can bring that about before April 1. The miners have got themselves into the strike mood and the operators talk stubbornly and as though determined to fight the miners' organization to a standstill.

But officials say they will let slip no suddenly presented opportunity to bring about a truce before April 1, and propose to watch developments in the next week as closely as though the strike were on.

Should such an opportunity be presented, the appeal by the President would be a virtual certainty. It may be made, anyhow, by way of laying a fondation for action later. But anything like evidence that the operators and miners could be brought together would bring the appeal immediately and either coupled with it or closely following it would be a concrete arbitration proposal.

There is a bare chance that the hard-coal operators and miners will make terms, and that the agreement would be used as the basis of an appeal for truce and arbitration to the two sides in the soft-coal fields.

SOLDIER BONUS PASSES HOUSE VOTE IS 333-70

Party Lines Are Ignored by House In Debate and Vote

REPUBLICANS DEMUR

Forty-Two Are Against Bill—Ninety Democrats Favor and Twenty-Eight Are Opposed.

Washington, March 24—By a vote far in excess of the two-thirds majority required, the House late yesterday passed the soldier bonus bill, 333 to 70. The bill now goes to the Senate, where its fate is considered doubtful.

Party lines disappeared, both in the general debate on the final roll call, 242 Republicans, 90 Democrats and one Socialist supporting the bill and 42 Republicans and 28 Democrats voting against it.

The balloting followed a day of fervid oratory, which in turn amused and thrilled the packed galleries. At times the debate and attendant scenes approached vaudeville; again the discussion reflected great bitterness.

The bill was passed under a suspension of the rules, a procedure forbidding amandment or a motion to recommit. The Democratic side made much of the "gag rule" method.

During the discusison much of the attack wa sleveled at the proposal to issue to the soldiers, sailors and marines a treasury certificate, upon which they may borrow 50 per cent at banks instead of a cash bonus. Had opportunity to amend been allowed the embarrassing cash bonus proposition undoubtedly would have been injected.

There were scores of brief speeches It was possible to allot only a few minutes to each speaker. All members, however, were given permission to "extend their remarks in the Record" and the whole country soon will be flooded with canned oratory on the soldier bonus controversy.

Legislative hostilities began as soon as Chairman Campbell presented from the Rules Committee the special rule making this a "suspension day." Representative Pou, of North Carolina, ranking Democratic member of the committee, and Representative Garrett, acting minority leader, were the first to protest over being gagged.

Representatives Garrett and Pou contended that the Rules Committee has no authority to bring a rule precluding even a motion to recommit a bill. They charged that the rule was specifically designed to deprive the minority of its right to move to send the bill back to committee with instructions.

Speaker Gillett overruled the point or order, holding the right of the Rules Committee to report such a rule. Then the oratory really got under way, and after an hour of partisan discussion of "gag rules," the previous question on the rule was ordered by a vote of 275 to 127 and the rule itself adopted by a vote of 221 to 121.

Then started four hours of debate on the bonus bill, culminating at 6:10 o'clock. Toward the end of it the Chamber became restless and there was much disorder, members crying "vote, vote," and otherwise interrupting the speakers. There was considerable laughter as speakers talked against the noise, and the height of the hilarity probably was reached when Representative Herrick, of Oklahoma, was yielded one minute, and took the floor. Representative Herrick, of "beauty contest" fame, said:

"I am going to vote for this bill, because it looks like if the soldier boys are to get anything they muts get this. Rather than see them get nothing, I will igve them this. Now we took care of the 10 per cent plus men, we took care of the shipping interests, we took care of the railroads and all the other grafters"—

Here the laughter cut Herrick off and he grinned and looked about the Chamber. He concluded by waving his arms and saying he would extend and revise his remarks.

Secretary Kirk Earle Wallace, of the Y. M. C. A., is wearing a hat several sizes larger today as a result of a splendid present that was presented to him yesterday out at the Potomac Yards. The gift was such a complete surprise that the secretary found himself speechless for once in his life. The presentation was made just at the close of a lenten talk that Mr. Wallace had made to the office force in the Accountant's office over which Mr. J. W. Varney presides. Mr. Varney took the floor at the close of the address and presented to Mr. Wallace a brief case and hand bag combined that fairly took the breath of the speaker. Then after a feeble effort on the part of the "Y" man to express his appreciation—it not being his birthday or Christmas—Mr. Varney also stated that a pigskin bill fold had also been included for good measure. Mr. Wallace has been giving heath talks and bible readings at the Potomac Yards for neary two years and the present was just an expresion of the appreciation on the part of the men who desired to show it in that very practical manner.

Shirley Bowley, 16 Years Old Detained bq Police

Recently a sneak thief entered the residence of Thomas M. Dunbarr, 1008 King street, and stole about $15 in cash, a watch fob with a Knights Templar charm studded with diamonds, valued at $50, together with a pai rof gold earrings.

The searchers for the stolen articles turned to Washington, and a man was found who had the K. T. fob, which bore the name of the owner, which, it is stated, was given him "by a guy." Anyhow, it resulted in the arrest of a youth giving t he name of Shirley Bowley, who says he lives in Arlington County. He was arraigned before Acting Police Justice A. B. Nicol this morning, and the lad was held for investigation. The Knights Templar pin an done o fthe earrings were recovered. The police say the lad admitted takin gthe K. LIFE INSURANCE WORK LAUDED

Metropolitan Company Manager Addresses Washington Rotary Club

Cooperation With Health Department Goes Far Toward Preventing Disease and Reducing Mortality

Washington, March 24.—Life insurance was characterized as "the greatest institution in the world," by John Dolph, Washington manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in an address before the Washington Rotary Club at their regular weekly luncheon at the New Willard Hotel.

Some idea of the magnitude of the life insurance business was given by the speaker who cited figures of business done by his own company.

The annual bunsiness of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company last year was $1,564,000,000 on which the company received premiums of $302,000,000. Compared with the American Telephone Company, which has thirteen and a half million telephone instruments, the speaker said that the Metropolitan Life had two policies in force for every instrument in use by the telephone company.

The sgnificance of these figures was emphasized by the speaker, who cited an average day's work done by the Metropolitan Company showing an average of 1,071 claims are paid daily by that company, aggregating $5,181,422, and that its assets are increased approximately $500,000,000 every day.

Last year the company paid 323,521 claims. As a result of the war, the company paid 25,961 death benefits. To bring the business of the company closer to home the speaker cited the fact that out of the ninety-six Knickerbocker victims, twelve of them were insured by the Metropolitan Company. An average of 15,000 policies are issued and revived each business day of the year.

"The clearest way to emphasize the size of the Metropolitan Life Company is to say that every fourth man or woman you meet in the entire urban population of the United States and Canada is a Metropolitan policy holder," the speaker said.

In Alexandria the ratio of policy holders is even higher. The company, he said, has in force in Alexandria about 24,000 policies, covering the lives of about 15,000 policy holders.

Another interesting fact cited by the speaker was that the company retained an average of 970 policy holders out of every thousand secured.

"Success of the Metropolitan Company, if it were summed up in a sentence would be attributed to the fact that all company transactions center around its considerate treatment of its employees, and its high grade service to its holders," the speaker said.

Work of his company and other great life insurance companies in co-operating with Health Department officials throuhout the country, in the prevention of disease and the many other activities of life insurance companies, as an institution, was touched by the speaker

SOLVING BUSINESS PERPLEXITIES AT MANFACTURER'S CONVENTION

New York, March 23.—Determined efforts to co-ordinate the energies of government and financial and industrial interests in solving the critical necessities of domestic and foreign business will be made by the National Association of Manufacturers, at their next annual convention, which will be held on May 8, 9 and 10, at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City, according to an announcement made at the headquarters today.

Among the important topics which will be discussed and for which constructive ideas will be suggested will be the tariff, taxation, the equity of the bonus theory for able veterans and shipping, the business and industrial health of individual communities, strikes, banking, finance, federal reserve, regulation of combinations and trade associations, shipping and world commerce.

Four outstanding features have been planned for some of the sessions:

On Monday evening, May 8, there will be a complete foreign trade session, which will be addressed by several men whose reputations on national and international subjects are world wide; this to be followed by a general discussion of the subject with a committee to analyze the suggestions and facts presented and make recommendations on the outstanding advice given.

On Tuesday morning there will be an important sesion devoted to the work and influence of the national trade associations of the country, which will be of unusual interest to general business following the recent reports of Herbert Hoover and Attorney-General Dougherty on the scope and limitations of trade associations. This session, it is expected, wil be preided over by one of the cabinet officers, and it will be participated in by representatives from every national industrial organization in the country. Results of far-reaching benefit are expected from this meeting and the greatest interest already has been evidenced in it from various official and unofficial quarters interested in the formulation of the program.

On Tuesday night there will be the annual banquet, which will be presided over by John E. Edgerton, of Nashville, Tenn., the new president of the association. James A. Emery, of Washington, will be the toastmaster. Speakers for this occasion will be announced later.

On Wednesday afternoon there wil be a sort of "Manufacturers Round Table," which will be participated in by manufacturers from all over the country. They will each offer their best thought or suggestion as to how they believe the national organization can help their seevral industrial communities and how it can help the general public and the government, not only in the solution of some of the vexing problems but also in making recommendation for the actual outworking of them.

BACK TO THE BIBLE

For several months the Gazette has been publishing on its front page a daily quotation from the Bible. It has done this because it has believed that a single thought from this greatest book in the world, impressed each day on the mind of each one of its fifteen or twenty thousand readers, would leaven the life of that reader for that day with something spiritual and uplifting. That the repetition of this for some three hundred days each year, would thus leaven the life of the whole city. And that the upshot would be that at the end of the year every reader would grow so habituated to the reading of this daily text that it would become a part of his spiritual regimen—perhaps the only spiritual sustenance afforded many who would have no other source. This, in turn, would be of material aid to the churches, or, in any event, might lead to a further study of the one Book which is the common denominator of modern civilization.

We have been surprised by the number of readers who have commented favorably on this feature of the Gazette. More than one has stated that it has revived an old acquaintance with the Book of Books, lapsed, perhaps, since childhood. Others have said that it has led them to take up the Bible itself, for a renewed study. While still others have confessed that it brought back blessed memories of a sainted mother and the lessons taught in the long-ago, at her knee. Some have admitted that at first they paid no attention to it, but that after several weeks or months, the little initial "S" had so subconsciously impressed itself on their vision, that they grew to seek it daily and read its message.

There is a "Back to the Bible Bureau," with headquarters in Cincinnati, which furnishes the initial "S", standing for "Scripture," and the little text appearing, to newspapers with over a total circulation of one million daily. This number, with some four or five million readers, is constantly on the increase. The aim of this Bureau is to augment the number of newspapers until it practically covers the whole United States. That will mean a circulation of some twenty million copies daily. The work of the Bureau is done by a number of noble-hearted men and women, without pay, and is supported entirely by voluntary contributions. The outlook is most encouraging. Many newspapers which at first were cold and indifferent, are today active and enthusiastic supporters.

The need for the work was never greater. The world has become sordid and materialistic. It needs spiritual vision as never before. When the Master gave the command to sow the seed, he said, "The seed is the Word," and, "The field is the world." He also said, "The gospel must first be published among all nations."

That the newspaper is the most efficient sower of the seed, and the world the field of the newspaper, we firmly believe.

Therefore we shall continue the daily publication of a text from the Bible, which will be found, day by day, in the lower left-hand corner of the third page. We have selected this position, as contiguous to the local news of the day, and therefore the one place where it is most likely to be read. Some papers place the text at the head of the editorial column. We do not do this, because we feel sure that the city news columns are always read, whereas the editorials may oftener be neglected than noticed.

We take pride in saying that The Gazette was among the first newspapers to adopt the idea, and that it has met with a most cordial endorsement among its readers.

Praise For Mason Hirst

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Alexandria, March 7th, 1922.

Mr. Mason Hirst,
Annandale,
Fairfax County, Va.

My Dear Mr. Hirst:—

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 28th ultimo, and thank you for the very kind expressions contained therein. I am glad to say that with the building of the Little River Turnpike the consummation of the united efforts of Fairfax County and Alexandria will have been realized in this direction. The Chamber of Commerce, as well as our local government, have always endorsed good roads and are interested in every movement that means the advancement and welfare of our people.

As you know in the days long past when Alexandria was part of the great county of Fairfax, it was in the Fairfax County Courthouse in this city that the famous "Fairfax County Resolves" were presented and adopted, but, while we have been separated many years by bad roads we are still knit together by close bonds of kinship and friendship which no boundary line can break asunder, and we look forward to the day when the completion of this road will enable your residents to renew old acquaintances and your people to become closer associated with us and that you might find it profitable to transact your business here.

Now that our activities for this road are soon to become a realization it may not be amiss to say that your personal effort has played a most important part. I am inclined to think that your work in getting that splendid meeting together at Annandale was the turning point of the whole matter, in manifesting to Alexandria that you were intensely in earnest and our representatives who attended could not help but be impressed with the stimulating influence of the meeting and determine that it would present a united fighting front and that it was with Fairfax to a finish.

With the completion of this road to Fairfax (and which I hope will soon be completed to Winchester) your section of the county will soon be coming into its own and I believe the pleasures and security of a good road will remain long after the price is forgotten.

With warm personal regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) Geo. H. Evans,
Business Manager.

HORRIBLE HEADACHES!

Try a Course of Gude'e Pepto-Mangan to Overcome Their Cause

Perhaps you wonder whether a disordered stomach causes them. Maybe you think your eyes are not just right and that they make your head ache, or possibly that a sluggish liver makes your head hurt. But have you ever thought that your frequent headaches may be due to weak, watery blood? This is a very common cause of headache—what the doctors call anemic headache, due to what they term general "blood poverty." Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan with your meals for a few weeks to build up your blood and general strength, and your headaches will probably cease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains a readily digestible form of iron that puts more redness into your blood, and, as everybody knows, it is red blood that is the only sure foundation of good health. You cannot be well without it. Get Gude's Pepto-Mangan of your druggist. It is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

a woman in Lynn, Mass., was steeping herbs on her kitchen stove according to a recipe of her own, to furnish medicine for the women of the neighborhood. Today, a stone's throw from the little house where she lived, there is a four-story laboratory, making the same medicine for the women of the world. During the last year almost 500 tons of carefully selected herbs were used in the manufacture of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A woman's medicine for woman's ailments. Have you tried it?

THANKS MR. BURKE!

Editor,
Alexandria Gazette,
Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir:—

Having been born and brought up in Alexandria and a subscriber to the Gazette for the past 27 years, I naturally take an interest in your efforts "For Greater Alexandria." With this in view, I wrote to H. H. Willock, Vice President of the Waverly Oil Works, Pittsburgh, for some definite information concerning the so-called Pittsburg plan and how it was liked by Pittsburg business men. The statements on pages No. 4, 5, and 6, of the enclosed pamphlet make interesting reading.

I take the liberty of commending this plan to the attention of yourself, the business men and people of Alexandria.

Yours truly, E. J. Burke.

MEN'S MEETING

The speaker for the Sunday afternoon meeting in the Westminster Building will be Senator M. E. Claff. Senator Claff spoke in this city some time ago and made a large number of friends. He is a fine talker and his speech is sure to be of interest to all although he has not yet announced his topic.

These Sunday afternoon interdenominational meetings which are held every Sunday in the Westminister Building are rapidly gaining favor throughout the city. Another great attraction at those meetings are the special musical programs which are always prepared Fredericksburg — Invitations are being sent out to the various county schools in this section to participate in the coming May Day celebration, which will be held here this year on May 6. The program for the athletic events and the pageant is now being prepared. Plans call for a more elaborate event than has ever before been presented in the history of the Rappahannock Valley. This is an annual event always looked forward to with interest here.

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS CONTRIBUTION TO WOODROW WILSON FOUNDATION

New York, March 23.—The Presidents of about a dozen colleges throughout the country became founders of the Woodrow Wilson Awards for public service today when their contributons to the Foundation now being created in honor of the former President were recorded. During the past few days subscriptions to the Fouhndation have come from the faculties and students of about 800 colleges. Announcement of the results of the effort in the educational institutions to assist in raisng the million dollar endowment was made by Professor Stephen P Duggan, chairman of the Educationa Committee of the Foundation.

Among thechief executives of the college recorded here today as contributors to the nation-wide tribute to Wilson were President Mary E. Woolley, Mount Holyoke College; President Ellen F. Pendleton, Wellesley; President Emiie W. McVea, Sweet Briar College; Chancellor J. N. Powers, University of Mississippi; President David Kinley, University of Illinois; President E. Conradi, Florida State College for Women; President J. H. Hill, West Texas State Normal College; President Thomas Fell, St. John's College; President C. O. Gray, Tusculm College; President R. E. Blackwell, Randolph-Macon College; President Paul V. Bomer, Judson College; and President W. W. Comfort Haverford College.

A contribution also came today from Dean Carl A. Felt, of Peking Theological Seminary, China.

President J. C Futrall, who is taking charge of the work of the Foundation at the University of Arkansas, reported that the fund was assisted at that University by all organizations on the campus, each as a group to receive a certificate stating that it is a founder of the awards. At Ohio State University President W .O. Thompson has authorized the placing of subscription booths in the halls and the library where the campaign is being made entirely voluntary.

"The man whose name the Foundateh alumni of Princeton University is being carried on by a committee of four. A letter to graduates of that university said:

The man whose name the Foundation bears is a graduate of our university. He is the man who, as professor, introduced the honor system at Princeton, and as presideut of the university introduced the preceptorial system into collegiate education —the most notable contribution of the Twentieth Century to educational methods."

Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., has raised so large an amount that the college alone oversubscribed the town quota. More than 100 students and about 30 members of the teaching staff subscribed. Among the arger college contributions was $285 which came today from the University of Illinois.

James W. Gurner, the chairman, stated that at that university "the majority of contributions are Republicans, men and women who have not allowed their partisanship to blind them to the services of Mr. Wilson in behalf of the great ideals of democracy, liberty and international justice."

Contributions of those who desire to become founders of the Wilson Awards are being received at 17 East 42nd Street, room 504; and 150 Nassau street, fifth floor, New York City.

High School's Contest

Richmond, March 23.—Junior and senior high school students in the high schools in Virginia will be given an opportunity to compete for $2,000 in prizes donated by Henry Morgenthau, former United States ambassador to Turkey, the contest opening at once and closing June 15, according to announcement today by Oliver J. Sands.

These prizes will be given for the best essay or oration on the economic and international conditions which have to do with the present deplorable condition of the people in the Near East who have for centuries been persecuted by the Turks in the name of Mohammedanism. Oliver J. Sands is State chairman for the Near East Relief in Virginia and E. Lee Trinkle honorary State chairman.

The prizes will be given for essays from various States in the Union, and three will be given for the best essays submitted in the nation. A first prize of $500 in cash will be awarded the winner of the national contest, followed by $200 for the second best and $100 for the third. In each State a prize of $15 will be given for the best essay or oration, $10 for the second and $5 for the third.

According to the announcement by Oliver J. Sands, the oration must have as its theme some phase of the present political, social, educational or industrial condition in the countries of the Near East, including Turkey, Syria, Palestine, Georgia and Armenia, and must contain not less than 1,500 nor more than 2,000 words.

The oration or essay must be delivered at a commencement exercise, oration contest or other public gathering, and a typewritten copy must be sent to the State office in Richmond not later than June 15. A committee of judges will be appointed shortly by the national office of the Near East Relief to pass on essays submitted by Virginia students.

All students who desire to enter this contest and to familiarize themselves with their subject may write to Oliver J. Sands, 265 American National Bank Building, Richmond, and the necessary literature will be forwarded. High school principals and teachers and county superintendents of schools are requested by Harris Hart, State chairman of the educational division, Near East Relief, to render every assistance possible to students who wish to enter this contest.

The national committee, which is in charge of the Morgenthau prizes, is composed of: P. P. Claxton, former United States commissioner of education; John H. Finley, editor of the New York Times; Professor Frank W. McMurry, of Columbia University; Ray L. Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University; John H. T. Main, president of Grinnell College, and Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin College.

Mr. Morgenthau, often called "that Christly-hearted Jew," was American ambassador to Turkey when the war broke out. He saw the horrible destitution wrought in Armenia by the Turkish butchers and was one of the few foreign diplomats who refused to allow Turkish propaganda and lies to pull the wool over his eyes. On his urgent request to Cleveland H. Dodge, New York financier, the Near East Relief was first formed, later being incorporated by Congress.

THEIR FIRST CHRISTMAS GIFT

To the people to whose lot it has fallen to dwell in large cities with their bustling activity it comes as a source of interest and inspiration to hear of the daily achievements of those who live far from the great centers.

Make a mental picture of Berlin, New Hampshire, far up in the White Mountains on the Androscoggin River. Here you find a wreath of natural resources in the millions of cords of timber on surrounding hills and the water-power afforded by the swiftly running river. Settled in 1821, Berlin has grown from a village of 72 to a prosperous mill center of 16,000 inhabitants busily engaged in operating some of the largest and finest paper mills in the country.

As in all industrial centers, poverty and property here stand side by side affording an unusual opportunity for the more fortunate to help those who are in need. Members of the Junior American Red Cross have recognized this fact and in addition to their regular Junior Service, the Berlin Juniors sent 19 packages at Christmas time to a little country school in Cates Hill, where the children are very poor. The teacher in acknowledging the boxes wrote that these were the very first Christmas gifts some of the children had ever received and that it brought tears to her eyes to see the joy on their faces as they reached out their hands for the packages.

Junior Service brightens the lives of children everywhere.

"The Tale of Two Brothers," by Enna, written about 4,000 years ago, is regarded as the world's oldest fairy story.

WITH THE WISHING FAIRY BY CORINNE

Stella Tells Her Brownies About Wolves.

STELLA, the Wishing Fairy, and her four Brownies were grouped together at the End-of-the-Earth under the shade of a large fern leaf. They had been discussing the Coyote, which once upon a time had gone to see the Fairy with the wish that she give him her protection, and she had made his wish come true by giving him the clever cunning that we have ever since been familiar with in connection with the Coyote—and also the Wolf; for these two animals are not only closely related but in many respects have similar habits.

"There is not much that is attractive to tell you about Wolves," the Fairy was saying to her Brownies, "for they are cowardly and vicious creatures."

"Are there many different kinds?" asked Snookums.

"Yes, indeed," replied Stella, "but nowadays there are but few left of any of the various species compared to the days of long ago. Wherever Humans have settled they have first had to practically exterminate the Wolves already in possession of the country. England was once upon a time overridden by them, but that country was easily cleared of them, as, being an island, it is completely surrounded by water, which prevented new Wolves from coming there. In far northern countries Wolves are always white or a very pale gray.

"I know why," Pimzie interrupted; "it's on account of the snow."

"Exactly," and Stella smiled, "the animals of snow covered countries, such as Bears, Deer, Rabbits, &c., are always white. This protects them, for it is ever so hard to notice a white object against the snow, just as it is difficult to see a green Snake in green grass, or a brown Moth on the brown trunk of a tree."

"The largest Wolves are those of Russia. I mean, of course, the uninhabited parts of Russia; and there they are also quite plentiful and frightfully vicious. In Texas," the Fairy continued, "is found the Red Wolf, and in the northwestern parts of the United States (where Coyotes come from) the Timber Wolf is the terror of the plains.

"Wolves travel as well as attack in packs. Take, for instance, the example of their pursuing a Moose. Two Wolves grip the tendons of the hind legs in their teeth, another flies at the throat, while the others, having completely encircled the poor thing, quickly close in around it. In scarce the twinkling of an eye there is nothing left but the antlers to tell the awful fate of the unfortunate Moose.

"In summer time when food is plentiful the natural cowardice of the Wolf makes him less formidable, but during the long, snow encased winters he is often driven by his hunger craze to uttermost extremities in search of food. For instance, when one Wolf of a pack has been killed the rest fall upon the body and devour it.

"Mrs. Wolf is a very devoted mother. Her cubs are born in the spring and are carefully attended to by both parents until far into the following winter, when they are practically grown up."

"What kind of homes have they?" asked Snookums.

They dig a deep hole in the ground," Stella answered, "or else use a cavern among the rocks, or any suitable, well hidden and covered place."

"And do they eat anything besides Humans and animals?" asked Lorykins with a little shudder.

"Yes," the Fairy returned, "when awfully hungry they'll eat Birds, Frogs and even carrion."

IN CONGRESS Yesterday

tee, Herman Metz, New York dye manufacturer, said the investigation had "covered about everything except the point of the inquiry, namely, the monopoly," and intimated he would throw considerable light on the subject under inquiry before he got through.

HOUSE

Met at 11 a. m. and adjourned at 6:35 p. m. until noon today.

By a vote of 333 to 70 passed and sent to the Senate the long-controverted soldier bonus bill. This was 64 more than the two-thirds necessary for passage of the measure under suspension of the rules.

The resolution authorizing consideration of the bonus bill under suspension of the rules was adopted by a vote of 221 to 121.

Democratic leaders sharply criticized the Republicans for bringing in a rule which forbade the offering of a motion to recommit the bill.

There was a medley of laughter, boom, some applause and a hearty chorus of "Noes" when Representative Brennan (Republican), Michigan, urged that the bonus be paid with a tax on "nonintoxicating beer."

Representative Mills (Republican), New York, declared the bill violated the very fundamentals of sound government finance by making no provision for meting the obligations, while Representative Thomas (Democrat), Kentucky, predicted the measure would "die in the Senate, as the other bonus bill did."

J. E. Levering, a consulting engineer of Los Angeles, California, in a statement filed with the Military Affairs Committee, attacked both Henry Ford's offer for purchase and lease of the Government's power plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and that of the Alabama Power Company.

Warning against "the wholesale slashing" of funds for the army and navy was sounded in a statement by Representative McArthur, of Oregon, a Republican member of the Naval Affairs Committee.

Youngster is Seeking Work on Farm While Police Hunt For Missing Father

White Plains, N. Y., March 24.—John Furnase, 11 years old, is looking for a farm on which he can work, while the police are seeking his father, who is alleged to have left him yesterday with $1 and the admonition to "go and earn his own living."

The boy said he and his father walked out of Nemacolin, Pa., two weeks ago, and that yesterday his fathter suddenly stopped, gave him the dolar and his orders and disappeared.

John kept on walking until he reached a station on the Boston and Westchester Railroad. There he bought a ticket for "the end of the line," and so reached White Plains late last night. The railroad trip and a meal here took all his money.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT AWFUL TREACHEROUS

Next Dose May Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attack the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and it if doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

Common Sense About Eczema and Eruptions!

Here's Something About S. S. S. That You'll Be Glad to Hear.

You might just as well know it right now,—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. We prove it. You can prove it.

When the cause of skin troubles and eruptions is in the blood, it isn't common sense to simply treat the skin. A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S.S.S. is a scientific blood cleanser,—it drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, blotches and other skin eruptions. When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle, your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S.S.S. is also a powerful body-builder, because it builds new and more blood-cells. That's why it fills out sunken cheeks, bony necks, thin limbs, helps regain lost flesh. It costs little to have this happen to you. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

Let S. S. S. Give You An Angelic Skin!

"---and we are a healthy, happy family now"
—Louis Gingras

TINGLING with abundant energy, appetites hearty, nerves strong and steady and their faces radiant with the glow of perfect health, the entire family of Louis Gingras, 9 Harrison Ave., Providence, R. I., are an eloquent tribute to the powers of Tanlac, the greatest family medicine the world has ever known.

"I've put Tanlac to the test four times right in my own family and it hasn't failed me once," declared Mr. Gingras. "My wife, my son and my daughter, as well as myself, have all been built up from a half-sick, run-down, worn-out set of people into a healthy, happy family brimful of new life and energy."

And the experience of this family is only typical of thousands of others whose statements are on file in the Tanlac offices. Hardly a day passes that does not bring scores of such messages of praise from every part of the United States and Canada from families where mother, father, son and daughter have all found health, contentment and the joys of living through simply taking a course of Tanlac.

Take, for instance, the case of John Widned, 1571 Roosevelt Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., who says "My wife, myself and little boy are now as healthy, happy family as you will ever see—and it's all due to Tanlac."

Or that of Mrs. John Marquis and her family of sixteen living in Manchester, N. H., at 292 Belmont St. She says: "Tanlac has been the only medicine use in our house for two years and it has kept every one of the sixteen here in the best of health."

In Chicago, Frank R. Richards, of 441 South Wood St., writes: "We will never be without Tanlac in our house after the remarkable way it has built up my wife, my son and myself to where we are the very picture of health."

Representative of New York is the case of Chas. E. Van Col't family, residing at 129 Fourth Ave., Albany. He says: "Every member of our family is enthusiastic over Tanlac. It's certainly a medicine for all the family."

From far-away Canada comes this message: "My little girl, my son and myself are all enjoying splendid health now and Tanlac brought it all about." Mrs. Bert Hewer, 193 East Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

"We call Tanlac 'The Family Medicine' here in our Virginia home, because it restored my mother and sister to perfect health, just the same as it has done me," is the enthusiastic statement of Mrs. J. F. Robertson, Danville, Va.

And on through the list, men, women and children from every state in the Union and every province of Canada unhesitatingly some forward and tell in words ringing with sincerity of the wonderful benefits of health and happiness that Tanlac has brought into their homes that were formerly darkened by the gloom of sickness, suffering and despair.

And should yours be one of those homes where any member of the family is thin, run down and weakened from loss of appetite, caused by indigestion and stomach troubles, you have at your very door the means that will no doubt bring the sunshine of vigorous health back into their lives and yours, just as it has done in so many thousands of other cases. Do not delay. Get a bottle of Tanlac from your druggist today.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of ELIZA JONES, who departed this life seven years ago today, March 24.

She left us to answer her Father's call,
Although we are grief stricken God knows best of all,
Years of silent sorrow, years of grief and pain,
We miss you here, we miss you there, dawns,
We miss you when the night returns.

We mis you here, we miss you there,
Eliza, we miss you every where,
Some day your hands will clasp in ours, never to say farewell.
